by Leonardo, this one day workshop is about boosting your "Possibility Thinking".

Seeing differently (explored through your visual art experiences) causes you to think differently, which in turn causes you to act differently. How will you see differently? By drawing a self portrait!

facing The Program Leonardo

- ◆ To create an open and playful context, we start with a group drawing exercise. The drawing exercise depends on the size of the team.
- ◆ To explore what creativity means. This is a facilitated session where participants' viewpoints and beliefs about creativity and the Creative Process are explored. We look at the Creative Process in both a linear and non linear manner.
- ◆ Another drawing adventure - involving faces! Do we draw what we see (with our eyes) or what we think we see (with our brain)? It's time to see differently!
- ◆ Stories from the art world are introduced - this will change participants' view of creativity. It's time to think differently!
- ◆ Tooling up drawing exercises - let's really draw our face.
- ◆ Finally, three drawing and three innovative thinking tools are put into practice. These tools can be used anywhere anytime to access your creative spirit and your creative mind. They are easy, fun, elegant and immediately effective.
